Fayetteville, NC 28311

What's Going On?

As the 2001 school year began, freshman found themselves looking to the upperclassmen to find out "What's Going On?" Students came back to find Methodist College enrollment numbers had increased. While parking places were hard to find, the addition of the new Union Station was a welcome sign of growth. Students looking forward to another memorable year never knew that events in the upcoming weeks would help them grow as friends, as a college and as a nation.

Student Life

Methodist College continued tradition by not holding classes on Wednesdays at 11 a.m. so students, faculty and staff could attend chapel services.

The macho men of Methodist College (and numerous others) helped the less fortunate by participating in the annual Jesse Smith woodcutting.

Students enjoyed the big screen TV, DVD player, VCR and comfortable couches at the new Union Station.

Toga! Toga!: Greek Life resumed at Methodist College as three sororities and a fraternity started chapters on campus.

This student had a little too much fun at Homecoming!

United in Talent: The winners of the fall talent show wowed the audience and judges with an emotional duet.

STUDENT LIFE

Greek Explosion

The newly established Greek Council, which consists of two members from each sorority and fraternity, held a toga party in the Berns Student Center to bring the organizations together.

September 11, 2001:

The Day that Changed the World

Where Were You When the World Stopped Turning?

By Alan Jackson

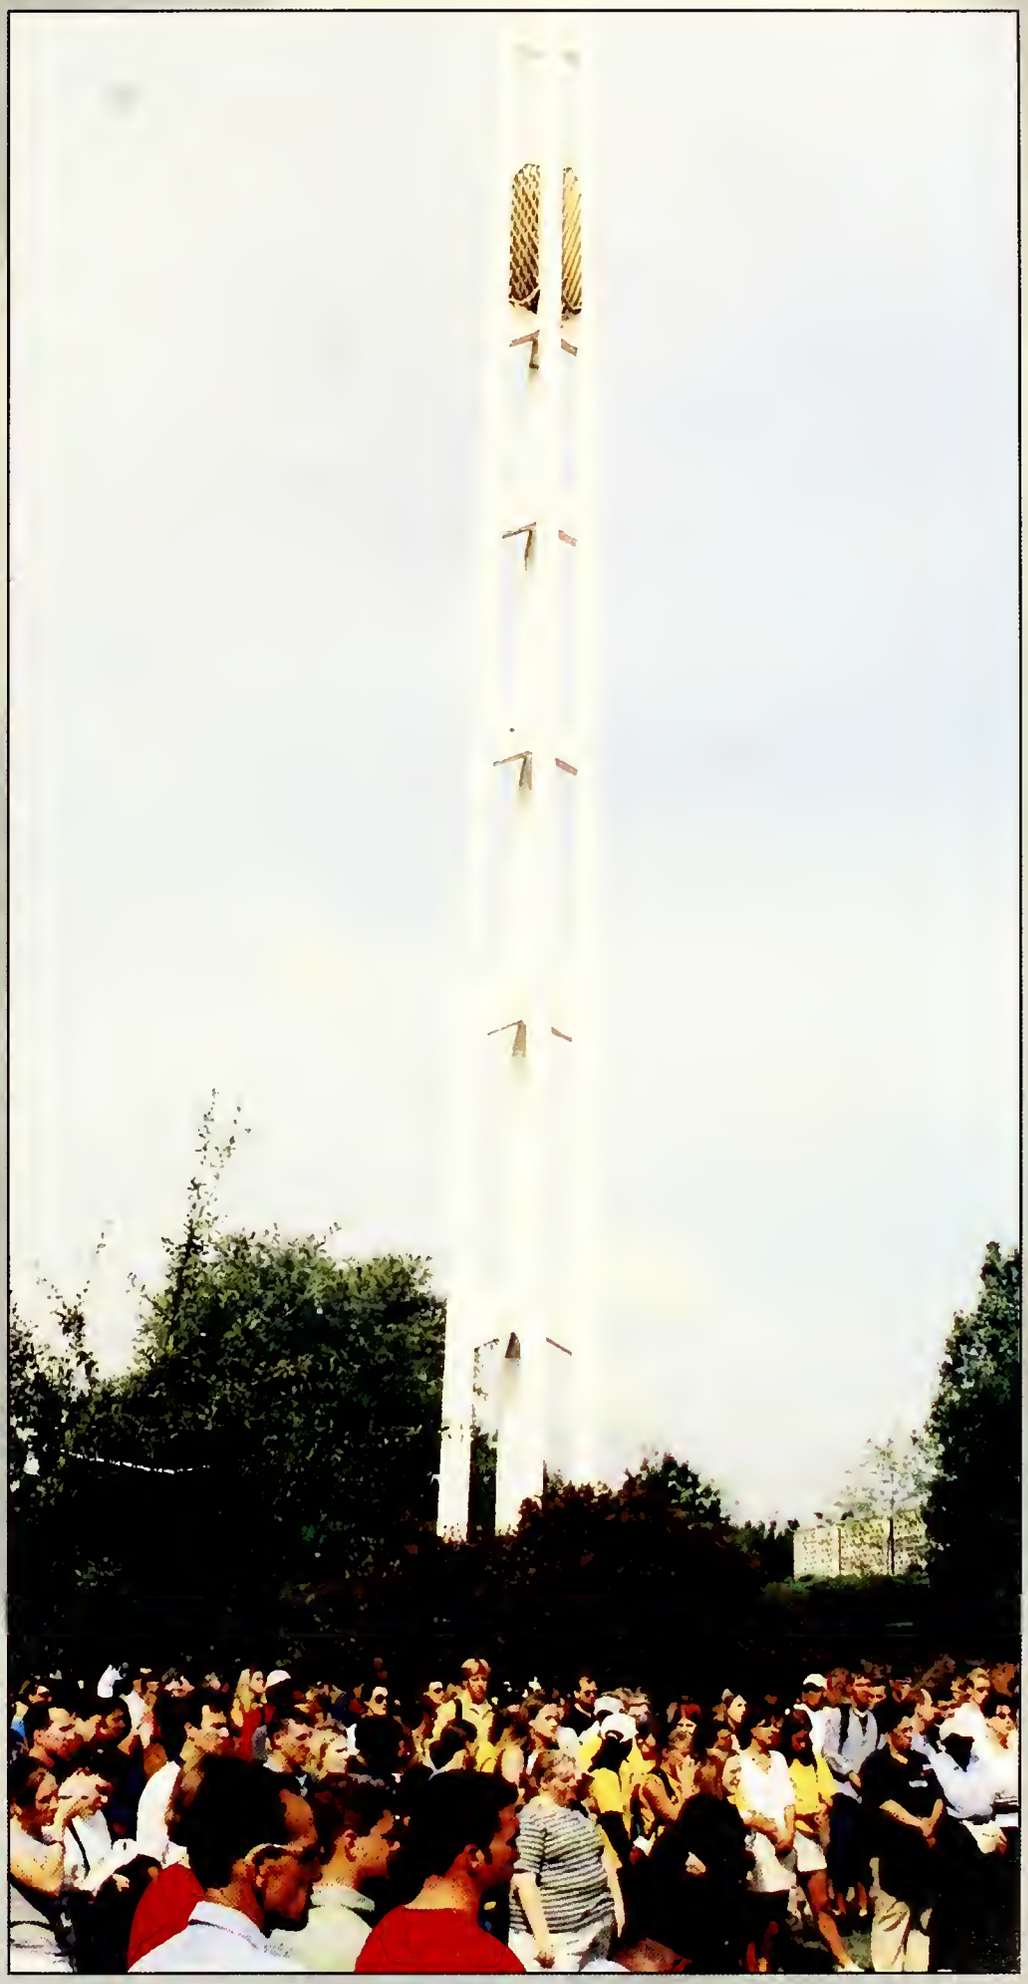
Where were you when the world stop turning on that September day
Were you in the yard with your wife and children
Or working on some stage in L.A.
Did you stand there in shock at the sight of that black smoke
Rising against that blue sky
Did you shout out in anger, in fear for your neighbor
Or did you just sit down and cry
Did you weep for the children who lost their dear loved ones
And pray for the ones who don't know
Did you rejoice for the people who walked from the rubble
And sob for the ones left below
Did you burst out in pride for the red, white and blue
And the heroes who died just doin' what they do
Did you look up to heaven for some kind of answer
And look at yourself and what really matters

I'm just a singer of simple songs
I'm not a real political man
I watch CNN but I'm not sure I could
Tell you the difference in Iraq and Iran
But I know Jesus and I talk to God
And I remember this from when I was young
Faith, hope and love are some good things He gave us
And the greatest is love

Where were you when the world stop turning on that September day
Teaching a class full of innocent children
Or driving down some cold interstate
Did you feel guilty 'cause you're a survivor
In a crowded room did you feel alone
Did you call up your mother and tell her you loved her
Did you dust off that Bible at home
Did you open your eyes, hope it never happened
And you close your eyes and not go to sleep
Did you notice the sunset the first time in ages
Or speak to some stranger on the street
Did you lay down at night and think of tomorrow
Go out and buy you a gun
Did you turn off that violent old movie you're watchin'
And turn on "I Love Lucy" reruns
Did you go to a church and hold hands with some strangers
Stand in line and give your own blood
Did you just stay home and cling tight to your family
Thank God you had somebody to love

A College Unites

In lieu of the events of Sept. 11, a young Methodist College student organized a moment of silence by the Carillon belltower. Much to her surprise, more than 400 students, faculty and staff gathered to honor the heros who were lost and the families who were mourning. The ceremony ended with the campus joining hands to sing "Amazing Grace."



United We Stand

Methodist College had been planning for weeks to hold a blood drive in the Berns Student Center on Tuesday, Sept. 11. When news of the attacks spread throughout Fayetteville and, most especially, Methodist College, people lined up to help anyway they could which included giving blood. The American Red Cross filled all of their units, and for the first time in years, met its goal while at the college. The need for blood was still great, and students, faculty and staff even traveled to different sites to donate blood.

Homecoming 2001 Festivities

The annual bonfire was a success as the cheerleaders and dance team performed for the pride of Monarchs to promote school spirit.

Surf's Up!

Homecoming 2001 Game

The Homecoming game had fans screaming together in the stands, as the Monarchs beat the Chowan Braves, 37-31 on October 27, 2001.

Surf's Up!

Homecoming 2001 Dance

Angel Garcia was crowned Homecoming King, and Nikki Jinwright was named Queen. The court consisted of Eshawn Young, Jennifer Neal, Jean Pierre and Christine Kilkenny.

Student Life

Winter brought along a few surprises at the dawn of 2002. Mother Nature shocked Methodist College with eight inches of snow following New Year's. While students hadn't yet returned to classes, faculty and staff got an extended vacation as a blanket of white covered the campus.

Are you ready for some FOOTBALL?!

The 2001 season saw a young group of Monarchs continue the tradition of success expected by the football program. Methodist wrapped up the 2001 campaign with a 5-5 overall mark and 3-3 Dixie Conference slate. It was the seventh time in the last eight years that the Monarchs have totaled at least five wins.

It took two weeks for the team to get going but then the Green and Gold won five of their next seven games. The Monarchs started with a three-game winning streak against Salisbury University, Newport News, and conference opponent Averett University. The season ended with victories against in state and conference opponents Chowan and Greensboro College. This marked the thirteenth time in the last fourteen meetings that Methodist has defeated these two opponents.

The season's accomplishments included MC's fifth Division III State Championship in the last six years. The punt return unit finished first in the conference and the defense lead the conference in sacks. Methodist also finished third in the newly formed Dixie Conference.

The 2001 season also saw a number of Monarchs receive individual attention including All-Conference, All-Region, as well as national honors.

Quincy Malloy was named the DIAC Defensive Player of the Year. Malloy, Mikey Brumbles, Antonio Wilkerson, Todd Burney, and Jamaal Legette were named to the conference first team while Kenod Powe, C.C. Dunn, and Jamar Brown were selected to second team. Malloy also received other awards: American Football Coaches Association National Good Works First Team and Don Hanson's first team All South regional team. Malloy was third in the country in tackles for losses and Wilkerson finished fourth nationally in punt returns.

The Methodist College men's soccer program boasts a long list of individual and team accomplishments and has a winning tradition that is envied by many. Our team's home is the "Crown Jewel" of Division III with a soccer facility that is unrivaled in the country. The Monarch soccer offices are located on the touchline of our pristine Bermuda grass playing surface. The two-story building houses home and visiting team locker rooms, referee changing facilities, an enclosed press box, and public restrooms. In addition, there is a $1.5 million, eight-field soccer complex on the Methodist campus that is ideal for training.

The Methodist College volleyball program looks to use the momentum of its run to the 2001 Dixie Conference Tournament Championship match to propel the program to future success. The 2001 campaign was a fresh start for the MC Volleyball program as Eddie Matthews took over the reins as the head coach after a 5-year tenure as the head coach at NCAA Division-I Georgia Southern. After finishing this year's regular-season by winning four of its final five matches, the sixth-seeded Lady Monarchs (pictured above just before DIAC Championship match) used a pair of upsets over traditional volleyball powers Greensboro (3rd seed) and Averett (2nd seed) to reach the tournament finals. With the new look on the sidelines and a strong returning corps, the Green & Gold are poised to make their permanent move towards the top of the Dixie Conference.

Cross Country

2001-2002 Team Schedule

Sept. 7	Monarch Cross Country Classic
Sept. 15	Averett University Invitational
Sept. 22	Greensboro Pride Invitational
Sept. 28	Clayton-Sykes Invitational
Oct. 6	Hagan Stone Park Invitational
Oct. 11	Cross-Town Classic
Oct. 20	Mason-Dixon Conference Meet
Oct. 27	Dixie Conference Championship

Competing in cross country at Methodist College ensures that student-athletes have a support group right off the batωtheir team! As a sport where there are no tryouts or cuts, cross country welcomes athletes into their college experience by giving everyone an opportunity to participate and improve. For the first few weeks, both men and women compete at the 5K (3.1 miles). However, as the season progresses, the men's race extends to 8K (5 miles). Most meets that the Monarchs participate in are in North Carolina, including four home events. Cross country has the distinction of competing for two conference championships, the Mason-Dixon Conference as well as the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference with the MC golf course serving as the host course for the 2001 DIAC Championships.

Going The Distance....

Women's Basketball

The Methodist College women's basketball team has surged into the top of the pack of NCAA Division-III South Region teams as the Lady Monarchs have captured at least a share of three consecutive Dixie Conference regular season titles. The Lady Monarchs have posted at least 16 wins in each of the past four campaigns with the school's best record coming in the 1991-92 season when the Green & Gold posted a 22-6 mark. Under current head coach DeeDee Jarman, the Lady Monarchs have won an impressive 70% of their games.

Individually, the Lady Monarchs have totaled 20 Dixie Conference All-Conference selections, 2 DIAC Player of the Year honors, and 2 DIAC Coach of the Year honors.

For the first time in 28-year history of the program, the women's time made it to the NCAA Division III tournament where they fell to Guilford 54-47 in the first round.

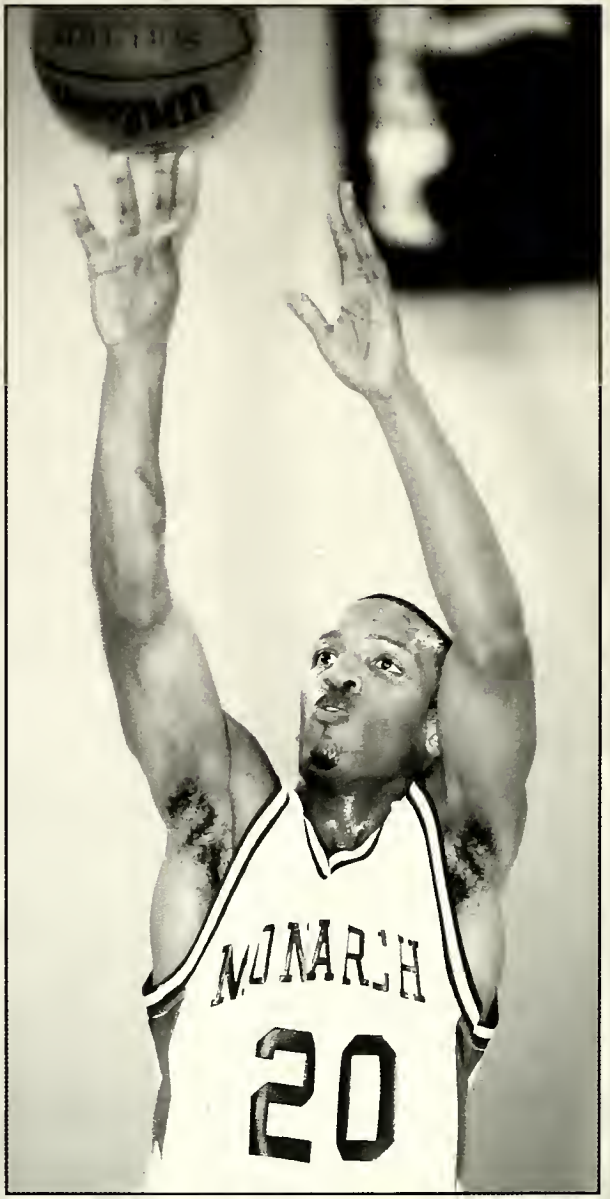
Men's Basketball

Seniors: David Carr #42, Carl Ollinger #33, Auriece McCain #5, Demarkus Byrd #30, and Aaron Evans #4



The Methodist College men's basketball team is entering its 39th season in intercollegiate competition as it was one of the school's inaugural three sports in 1963. This past season the Green & Gold captured the school's 400th career victory.

In the 1996-97 season the Monarchs posted their banner year with a 22-8 overall record and a trip to the NCAA Division-III Elite-8. The 22 wins was a school record for single-season wins and included a national record stretch of 20 straight wins.

Individual honors include 45 Dixie Conference All-Conference honors as well as one NCAA-III South Region Player of the Year, three All-Americans, one DIAC Player of the Year, one DIAC Rookie of the Year, seven DIAC Coach of the Year honors, and one Region Coach of the Year.

Cheerleading & Dance

Our Philosophy:

Being a part of the Methodist College cheerleading and dance team is about more than tossing stunts, dancing at half-time, and grabbing a sign that says, "GO MONARCHS." It is also about learning how to relate to individuals from all walks of life, working together toward a common goal, and building character and self-esteem.

Cheerleaders and dancers are expected to make serious commitments to their programs. The season begins in August and ends at the conclusion of the NCA/NDA College Cheer and Dance Championships which are held in April.

The Methodist College women's lacrosse team hopes to build on the school's rich athletic tradition by establishing a new proud institution of its own. In the spring of 2002, the MC lacrosse program became the southern-most NCAA Division-III women's program in the country. The very first season of intercollegiate competition began with a road trip to NCAA Division-II Limestone College on February 24th. The inaugural season for women's lacrosse at MC will be dedicated to establishing a solid foundation for continued success in the years to come.

SOFTBALL

Since head coach Ron Simpson took over the reins of the Methodist College softball team three years ago, the Monarchs have emerged as one of the South's elite programs. The Monarchs have captured two Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference regular-season title and two consecutive bids to the NCAA Division-III Atlantic Regional.

The Monarchs have posted a 90-45-2 mark over the last three seasons including a span of three consecutive 25-win seasons. During that span, the Monarchs have placed 11 players on the DIAC All-Conference teams, five All-Region selections, two DIAC Player of the Year honors, and two Coach of the Year honors.

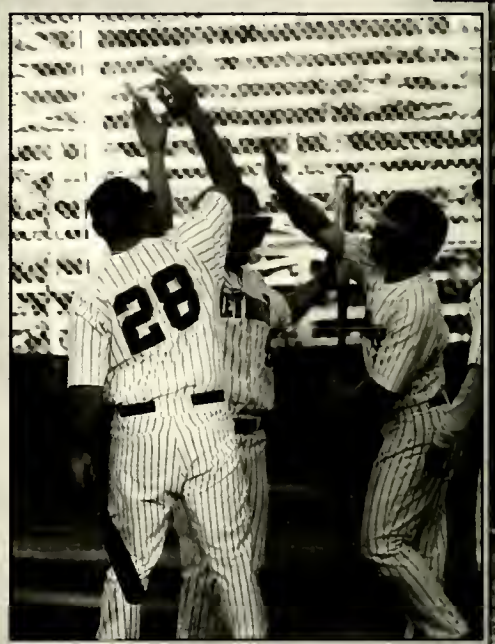
Baseball



The Methodist College baseball program has been traditionally one of the nation's elite. In the program's 32-year history, the Monarchs have tallied a 879-303-8 record including 43 post-season wins.

This year is no different. The monarchs finsihed the 2002 regular season with a 38-7-1 record and as the nation's second ranked team. This season the monarchs held the distinction as the nation's topped ranked team for four weeks and the 38 wins is the fourth-most in school history with nine of those wins coming over nationally-ranked teams.

In post-season, the monarchs were awarded the number one seed in the 2002 NCAA-III South Regional tournament.

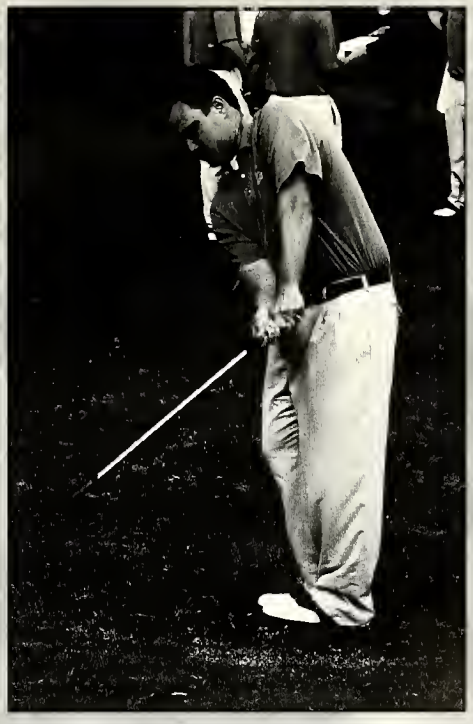
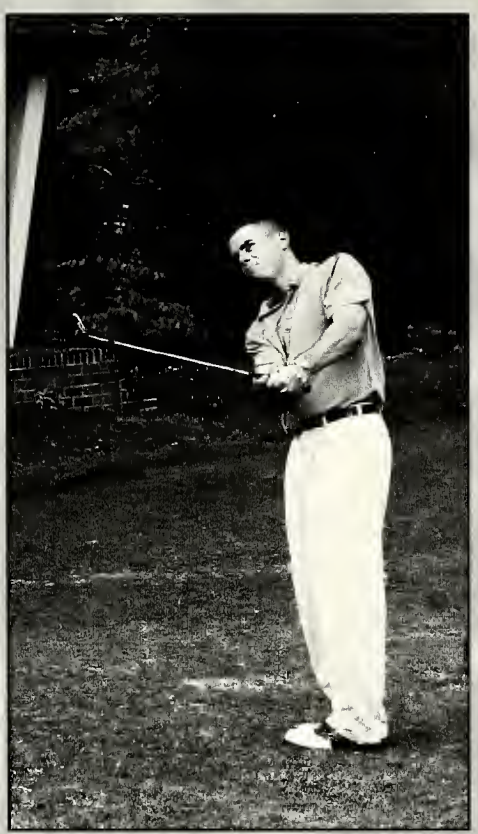
This year, like every year, the Methodist College men's golf team has had an incredible season. The Methodist College Men's Golf team received the honor of holding the nation's top-rank in the NCAA-III team all season in the GCAA/Precept polls. The men also made their 22nd consecutive NCAA tournament appearance in the spring of 2002. The Monarchs carry a 295.2 stroke average over 25 rounds and posted one tournament victory this past season. The win was at the prestigious Gordin Classic where the field was composed of the top 12 finishers from last season's NCAA-III National Championship. All five members of the Monarch squad, which include a senior, a junior, a sophomore, and two freshmen, will be making their first trip to the NCAA tournament. Methodist is led by Mike Townsend's (FR/Garner, NC) 73.76 stroke average over 25 rounds which ranks him 15th in Division-III and earned him the distinction as the 2002 Dixie Conference Rookie of the Year.





Women's Tennis

The Methodist College women's tennis team, ranked #17 in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association Division-III national poll, earned the school's second-ever team appearance in the NCAA-III National Tournament this year. The Lady Monarchs (13-1) competed in the Atlantic South Regional hosted by Washington & Lee University in Lexington, VA on Wednesday, May 8th.
Elena Blanina (JR/Moscow, Russia) was voted as the women's tennis Player of the Year for the third consecutive year while head coach Goncalo Marques was named the Coach of the Year.

Track and Field

In the final event of the 2002 season, the Methodist College men and women's outdoor track and field teams posted a strong showing at the 2002 Mason-Dixon Conference in Newport News, VA. The MC men's team earned a third-place finish while the women finished in fourth place out of seven schools.

Between the two squads, Methodist brought home 50 All-Conference honors (28 men & 22 women) and won seven individual conference championships.

Seven men were preparing to go to the NCAA Division III National Championships at McCallister College in St. Paul, MN. The men were planning to compete in the 4X100 meter relay and the 4X400 meter relay.

Greek Council

Greek Council Fall 2001

Staff Advisor:
George Blanc

As the Greek community began to grow from a single sorority in the spring of 2001 to three sororities and one fraternity in the fall of 2002, the need for the establishment of a Greek council became apparent. The council was established to assist in the coordination and direction of "Greek life" at Methodist College.

Political Science Launches New Honor Society

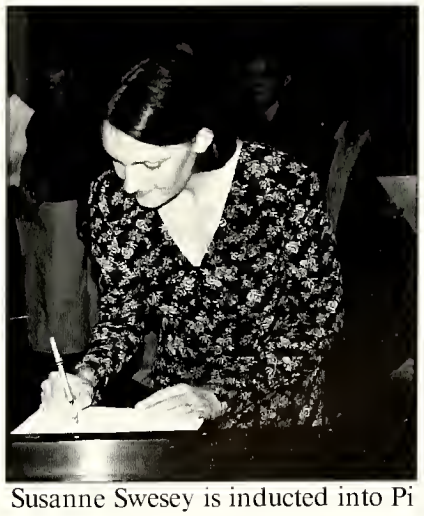
Pi Sigma Alpha, the national honor society for Political Science, added a new chapter recently at Methodist College. Sixteen Monarch students and faculty were inducted as "charter members" into Methodist College's newest honor society at a ceremony conducted at Hensdale Chapel, Friday, November 30.

According to president Melonde Colvin, "Pi Sigma Alpha is important because it encourages and promotes the study of government and politics. As a political science major, the study of current events, international relations, and politics are essential as well as important. Pi Sigma Alpha serves as a catalyst and induction into the honor society is an honor and a privilege."

Dr. Trevor Morris presided over the ceremony, since he is a previous member from another institution, and is a charter member of the Methodist College chapter. Dr. Morris is Head of the International Studies Program and Director of the Social Science Division.

Students selected for membership are recognized for excellence in college scholarship. To be eligible, students must be juniors, be in the top third of their class in overall academic standing, have a B average in all political science courses, and have completed 10 semester hours of government, international relations, or public administration courses.

Pi Sigma Alpha was founded in 1920 at the University of Texas. There are now over 500 chapters in colleges and universities nationwide. Pi Sigma Alpha is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies.



Susanne Swesey is inducted into Pi Sigma Alpha.

The HIP Club is open to anyone interested. It tries to increase awareness of and interest in both history and important current issues through several different means, e.g., field trips to historical sites, or guest speakers discussing major issues and career development. The club generally sponsors at least one out-of-town trip per year.

The HIP Club's goal is to develop a comraderie between students studying History, International Studies and Political Science. Also, to participate in activities that are helpful to the community and to help students develop professionally.

Club Activities in 2001-2002:

*Public forum on terrorism and the world situation
*Lecture series on Fayetteville and Ft. Bragg history
*Current events and world issues discussions on Wednesdays
*Richard Kimbrough lecture on Bin Laden's motivation
*Habitat for Humanity event

America has never been united by blood or birth or soil. We are bound by ideals that move us beyond our backgrounds, lift us above our interests, and teach us what it means to be citizens.
George W. Bush
STUDENT CENTER
METHODIST FOOTBALL

Following September 11, 2001 students realized that no one at Methodist College stands alone. As individuals we may have different goals, ideals, even cultures. However, as a college we are united.
SGA

September 11, 2001: How has it affected your life?

The events of September 11, 2001 changed our nation. Our countries most prized possession was jeopardized, our freedom. Terrorists attacked our nation and stole one of the assets we take the most pride in, our freedom. Ironically, the freedom we fought for so long to achieve was our weakness. The freedom to go into work or step into a plane without fear of being attacked. The freedom to accept students from other countries with ease. The date September 11, 2001 means something different to everyone. Here at Methodist it was the day that united a college.

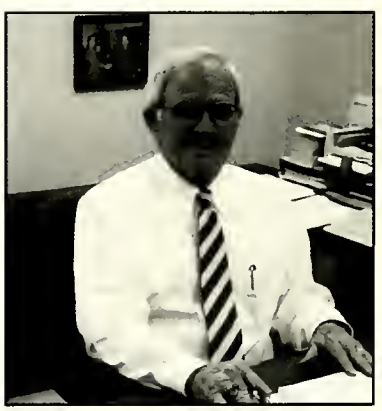
Tara Weaver-My husband is in the military. He is in the 82nd Av. I fear that he will be sent to war. That scares me. The events of September 11 have scared me to the point that I fear flying.

Malia Price-I worry about my husband and brother going to war. War is more of a reality now.

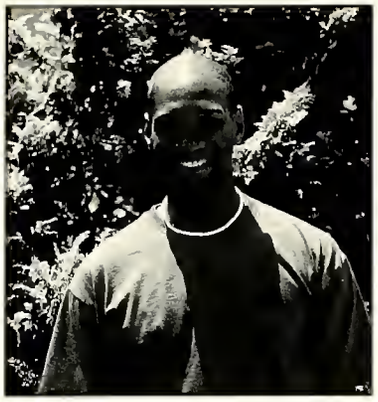
Tom Maze-I have yet to get on (by choice) an airplane and I am not sure when I will!

Todd Holmes-It gave me a deeper respect for those in uniform, police, military, firefighters, etc. I also feel more patriotic than I did before. I guess it was a wake up call for me as well as it should be for the entire country.

Roman Trudnenko-The college community became more united after the attacks. Everybody realized that their relatives and friends could have been in the World Trade Center on September 11th.



Harvey L. Adams, Jr.-It has made me more aware of how vulnerable we are as a nation. Although I have been in two wars myself, it was nothing like the unknown we face now with the terrorists.



Rickey Hill-Two of my former cheerleaders for James Madison Univ. were in the WTC and Pentagon on 9-11. Both are okay. They were very special friends and I thank God they are doing well. This makes you realize how precious life is.

Sheila Stancil-My son enlisted in the Navy 6 weeks prior to the September 11 tragedy. I was very skeptical and afraid for him, but after September 11 I was very proud to say that my son was in the navy for "our" country. I also have so much more respect for our firefighters and law enforcement. It has opened my heart to people a lot more.

Magda Baggett-On the professional side, there was a loss of students who could no longer afford to stay in the U.S. due to the home country's financial losses. Also, there are less international students who are able to obtain visas to enter the U.S. On my personal side, since we are a military family, there is always the concern for family members (2 sons in the military and many active duty friends). On the positive side, there has been a great response from international students supporting first the Sept. blood drive, then the U.S. position in terrorism.

Jennifer Rohrer-Walsh-I nolonger watch or read the news. I listen to relaxing music in the morning instead. In the evening, I read or practice yoga. My daughter, who is a journalism major, disapproves of my head in-the-sand philosophy. But I do have my blood pressure to consider!

Allison Rose-I am thankful that President Bush was president at the time. I feel that he showed tremendous passion and concern for all the people who were affected by this tragedy.

Ronnie Roseborough-I think that this tragedy is a grim reminder of how precious our freedom and way of life is resented by those nations, religions, and groups who wish to bring terror and destruction to our nation.

I have always been aware of my surroundings so the events have not affected my life. People in this country will always feel or act differently when someone of a different race or nationality comes here to live or visit. However since the face of America is changing, I think they also need to change their attitudes about others who are different from themselves. We Americans need to trust each other, regardless of their race, gender, etc.

Carole Samperton-Since I have two sons in the military, one who has been there twice already and will probably be going back, I have become a news junkie, something I never was before. I am much more aware of the relations we have with other countries. I used to work in D.C., one block from the White House, so I had to call and check on the people I worked with.

Paul Reinecke-I think as a parent, it makes me worry more about my children's futures, the possibility of war, the question of world peace. I also think it brings greater importance to family. Everything is becoming more important, life in general, peers, neighbors, coworkers.

To the students of Methodist College 2001-2002, I would like to thank all of you for surviving one more year of school. This year has been particularly hard due to the unfortunate events of September 11, 2001. Not only were you faced with the challenges of everyday college living (which we all know is hard enough), but you were also faced with the challenges of learning while the very safety of our nation was at risk. For that alone, I would congratulate you, but you went beyond that and pulled together as a college. The theme of this annual is dedicated to you, for you truly have become a college united.

To the faculty and staff that have worked so hard to maintain normalcy during this time of horror.

As editor of the yearbook, I was fortunate enough to work with some extremely competent people. I would like to thank Hugh Harling, Rickey Hill, Robin Warrington, Bill Billings, and Mike Sinkovitz and George Blanc for the wonderful pictures they contributed. I would also like to thank Bill Billings and Latasha Cherry for their support and encouragement. Without them, I would not have taken on this task. I would like to recognize Mike Molter, Dave Ehinger, Mike Colonnese, and Lee Glenn for the many contributions they have made to the Carillon.

To the incredible staff that shared my stress this past year in completing this book, thank you and I hope to see you again next year.

Jessica St. Andrews	Sports Editor/Photographer
Latasha Wharton	Student Life
Fredericka Elliott	Student Life

I would also like to thank my family and Todd Holmes for all their support and help this past year.

The biggest thank you goes out to my incredibly talented, versatile, competent advisor Kelley McGonnell. Her dedication to this yearbook resulted in it's completion. As a new faculty member, Kelley took over the yearbook, newspaper, and position of campus photographer with all of their headaches in the fall of 2001. As most know, the past two yearbooks were not completed until this past fall. What most are not aware of is the fact that she single-handedly completed them upon her arrival to Methodist College. I would just like to recognize her for the dedication, time, and effort she has put forth to reestablish the reputation of the Methodist College Carillon.
